

PSPS 2018 FALL Semester Course Information

MAJOR	대상	REMARKS	교과목명	REGISTRATION NUMBER	SUBJECT	CREDIT	CLASS HOUR	CLASSROOM	PROFESSOR	LIMIT NUMBER OF STUDENTS	REMARKS	OUTLINE
ALL STUDENTS EXCEPT FOR KOREAN	KOREAN LANGUAGE CLASS 2A (Those who have passed 1B)			CLASSROOM AND TEACHER WILL BE NOTIFIED AT A LATER DATE ON THE PSPS WEBSITE.								KOREAN LANGUAGE CLASS & TEACHERS WILL BE ASSIGNED BY KOREAN LANGUAGE INSTITUTE
ALL MAJOR	3rd semester students	ACTIVITY	특별활동3: 음악	0004	ACTIVITY3 : MUSIC	1	WED 10:00 - 11:50	A11-306	HAN YONGHEE	18	Compulsory	This lecture is composed of various type of classes in order to understand and experience music thoroughly.
	3rd semester students	ACTIVITY	특별활동3: 사물놀이(A)	0005	ACTIVITY3 : SAMULNORI(A)	1	THU 13:30 - 15:20	A11-331	NAM PILBONG	17	Compulsory	This course is designed to make students to understand and play the Korean traditional beat of Yeungnam province with Janggu and Gong.
	3rd semester students	ACTIVITY	특별활동3: 사물놀이(B)	0006	ACTIVITY3 : SAMULNORI(B)	1	THU 13:30 - 15:20	A11-331	NAM PILBONG	17	Compulsory	This course is designed to make students to understand and play the Korean traditional beat of Yeungnam province with Janggu and Gong.
	3rd semester students (Saemaul Major)	CORE	새마을정책액션플랜(A)	0002	SAEMAUL POLICY ACTION PLAN(A)	2	THU 09:00 - 11:50	402	MOON YONGSUN	29	Compulsory	This course is designed to provide a basic understanding of the action plan of SAEMAUL policies and to enable students to develop practical skills to be used in the community, based on the establishment and implementation of SAEMAUL policies. Students are to be empowered as SAEMAUL leaders by applying the SAEMAUL policy action plan into their communities. In addition, the SAEMAUL policy action plan is developed to be suitable to different countries and communities based on theoretical studies and SAEMAUL development.
	3rd semester students (Public Policy, Forest Major)	CORE	새마을정책액션플랜(B)	0003	SAEMAUL POLICY ACTION PLAN(B)	2	THU 09:00 - 11:50	502	LEE MISOOK	23	Compulsory	This course is designed to provide a basic understanding of the action plan of SAEMAUL policies and to enable students to develop practical skills to be used in the community, based on the establishment and implementation of SAEMAUL policies. Students are to be empowered as SAEMAUL leaders by applying the SAEMAUL policy action plan into their communities. In addition, the SAEMAUL policy action plan is developed to be suitable to different countries and communities based on theoretical studies and SAEMAUL development.
	3rd semester students	CORE	국제개발협력의 이해	0001	UNDERSTANDING INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT COOPERATION	3	WED 13:30 - 15:50	307	LEE JEONGJU	52	Compulsory	This course aims to lead students to an insightful understanding of the meaning and purpose of international development cooperation and provide an in-depth overview of the history, current practice and strategies of Official Development Assistance. Particular attention will be given to the policies and strategies of Korea's international development cooperation broadly examining their actors, partners and current issues. The course will also expose the students to a general discussion of project management techniques in the context of international development cooperation.
	4th Semester studnets (compulsory)	THESIS RESEARCH	논문연구	-	THESIS RESEARCH	3	-	-	-	-	Compulsory	THESIS RESEARCH (Each major)
SAEMAUL AND INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT MAJOR	3rd semester students	MAJOR	지역사회협력동조합	0009	COMMUNITY AND COOPERATIVES	3	TUE 09:00 - 11:50	402	LEE MISOOK	29		This course is designed to study essence, philosophy, historical background, and theories of cooperatives. The development process of Cooperatives in Korea is understood in particular along with comparisons and analysis of development and status quo of cooperatives in other countries. These are the foundation to study how to meet economic, social, and cultural needs in the community; how to make contribution to effective establishment of regional community through civil movement and democratic management; and how to encourage vitalization of regional economy.
	3rd semester students	MAJOR	NGO와국제개발협력	0007	NGOS AND INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT COOPERATION	3	MON 13:30 - 16:20	402	HUH CHANGDEOG	29		Playing an increasingly more important role in all aspects of development, non-governmental organizations (NGOs) are key actors in international development cooperation and major partners of public development agencies. International development cooperation through NGOs can cover areas and objects that are not easily reachable by government-to-government cooperation framework. With this in mind, this course examines their functions, current spectrum of activities and management.
	3rd semester students	MAJOR	새마을국제개발현장학습3	0008	FIELD STUDY IN SAEMAUL AND INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT 3	1	-	-	LEE JEONGJU	29	Compulsory	This course provides students with an ample opportunity to take field trips to historic sites of SAEMAUL UNDONG and Korea development. They are expected to observe the achievements of SAEMAUL UNDONG and other related data. The students will also have opportunity to talk with local residents who have participated in community development and conduct interviews with them. It will be able to apply Korea's development experiences to international development projects through field study. Students will conduct pre- and post-field-trip sessions to prepare and present feedback the results of the field trip in order to make the field study more effective.
PUBLIC POLICY AND LEADERSHIP MAJOR	3rd semester students	MAJOR	정책분석및평가	0012	POLICY ANALYSIS & EVALUATION	3	MON 09:00 - 11:50	502	HWANG SUNGSOO	18	Compulsory	The goal of the course is to develop the conceptual foundations and practical techniques that enable students to become intelligent consumers and effective producers of public policy analysis (and policy evaluation). It will help students to define problems systematically, and to apply analytical tools in the service of better policy decisions. Students will also learn some practical tools in conducting policy analysis, and employ case studies to illustrate the concepts and techniques of policy analysis and debate.
	3rd semester students	MAJOR	주민참여론	0016	CITIZEN PARTICIPATION	3	TUE 13:30 - 16:20	502	LEE MISOOK	18	Compulsory	As roles and consciousness of community residents have been increased, meaning of civil society as well as theoretical and historical backgrounds of emergence of civil society need to be understood. In so doing, this course aims to study citizen participation types and activities. The roles of government, NGO, and citizen participation in policy making process under modern democratic systems are empirically analysed; importance and role of civil society are reviewed; and effective ways of governance system are investigated. In addition, empowerment of residents to lead the community as citizens in democratic society and system to secure their pivotal role in establishing local community are discussed.
	3rd semester students	MAJOR	경제개발현장학습3	0010	FIELD STUDY ON ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT 3	1	-	-	LEE MISOOK	18	Compulsory	This course offers students an opportunity to visit field sites of economic development. Visiting sites include industrial complex, R&D centers, physical infra such as dams and expressways, and institutions involved in development policies. Students are required to submit a report regarding the sites they have visited.

FOREST RESOURCES AND ECOLOGICAL RESTORATION MAJOR	3rd semester students	MAJOR	산림경제학	0013	FOREST ECONOMICS	3	MON 13:30 - 16:20	602	LEE YOCHAN	5	Compulsory	This course is taught to provide basic knowledge and theories on forest economics that concentrates on choices with respect to a particular limited resource, forests. This course supposes that students will study the tools of financial investment analysis. Students will apply the mathematics of investment analysis to evaluate alternative land management regimes. This course also provides information on how the wood products sector is structured. Student will study what factors affect consumer demand for wood-using goods, derived demand for wood as an input to the production of wood products, and supply of timber and wood products. In addition, this course deal with the role of forests in producing both market and nonmarket goods.
	3rd semester students	MAJOR	산림생태학	0014	FOREST ECOLOGY	3	TUE 13:30 - 16:20	602	LEE HAKJUN	5	Compulsory	This course is aimed at understanding the forest ecosystem which deals 1) the distribution of plant species in the forest, 2) interrelationship between plant individuals and environmental factors, 3) competition between plant individuals, 4) symbiotic relations and roles of woody species in the ecosystem, 5) various environmental factors which influence the forest, and 6) responding strategy of woody species to the environmental changes. Tree growth, competition between woody species or other organisms, interrelationship between woody species and environment, adaptation mechanism of trees to changes in environment, time and spaces, forest succession, and ecological forest management are also discussed.
	3rd semester students	MAJOR	산림자원현장학습3	0015	FIELD STUDY IN FOREST RESOURCES 3	1	-	-	JUNG JINYOUNG	5	Compulsory	This topic deals with a broad understanding of relevant knowledges on forestry and ecological restoration through visits to government institutions, universities, research institutes, and factories which are relevant to the forestry sciences, as well as to sites of afforestation and ecological restoration.